STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Sales of most goods in West Bengal are taxed under the Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Act, 1941. This Act levies a single-point sales tax at the last stage of sale effected by a registered dealer to an unregistered dealer or a consumer. Tax is realised through the agency of registered dealers having a fixed turnover. The tax being a single-point levy at the last stage, all sale-purchase transactions in the earlier stages between the registered dealers of goods covered by their registration certificates are exempt from tax on production by a purchasing registered dealer of a written declaration in the prescribed form obtainable from the prescribed authority. If such declaration forms are used by dealers other than registered dealers for making tax-free purchases or if a registered dealer uses such declaration forms in transactions concerning goods which are not specified in his registration certificate, the State Government stands to lose its due revenue from sales tax. Thus, any abuse of declaration forms leads directly to loss of revenue. That is why these forms are distributed to the dealers with great circumspection.

2. Under the proviso to section 5(2)(a) of the Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Act, 1941, registered dealers are entitled to supply of declaration forms from the prescribed authority. But neither the Act nor the Rules made thereunder lay down anywhere the manner of or the procedure for issue of such declaration forms. While in normal cases, declaration forms are issued liberally according to the bona fide requirements of dealers, all cases of suspicion are treated with caution and declaration forms are issued in such cases in a restricted way. This prompted a number of aggrieved dealers to move the High Court alleging undue restrictions in the matter of issue of declaration forms. It is clear from the decisions of the Calcutta High Court that the Courts are willing to allow reasonable restrictions in the matter of issue of these forms in all cases of suspicion. This Bill, therefore, seeks to amend the proviso to section 5(2) (a),ibid, to such extent as to empower the State Government to frame appropriate rules laying down conditions for issue of such declaration forms. It also restricts tax-free purchase of goods by manufacturers and electrical undertakings to only such goods as are required directly in the manufacture of goods for sale or in generation or distribution of electrical energy. The Bill also imposes penalty for improper use of declaration forms by registered dealers.

3. The amending Bill liberalises the restrictions on disclosure of details of assessees' business in some special cases by amending section 25(3), ibid. Inter alia, it provides for disclosure for the purpose of exchange of information with the sales tax authorities of other States in order to curb malpractices of unscrupulous dealers and evasion of sales tax by such dealers. The opportunity has also been taken of amending certain other provisions of the Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Act, 1941, so as to remove some administrative difficulties.

4. No additional expenditure is envisaged for giving effect to the provisions of the amending Bill.

THE BENGAL LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY (MEMBERS' EMOLUMENTS) (SECOND AMENDMENT) BILL, 1965.

It is hereby enacted in the Sixteenth Year of the Republic of India, by the Legislature of West Bengal, as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Legislative Assembly (Members' Emoluments) (Second Amendment) Act, 1965.

(i) in respect of all such journeys to any place or places within the State of West Bengal, and

(ii) subject to a maximum limit of three thousand miles a year, in respect of such journeys to any place or places within India outside the State of West Bengal; and"; and

(Clause 2.)

(4) after clause (c), the following clause shall be added, namely:—

"(d) there shall be paid to each member residing within Calcutta or Howrah and possessing a telephone in his own name, an amount equivalent to the charges payable in respect of calls, not being trunk calls, made by such member up to a maximum of one hundred calls per month.

Explanation.—For the purpose of this clause, "Calcutta" and "Howrah" shall have the same meaning respectively assigned to them in the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1951 and the Howrah Municipal Act, 1965.". West Ben. Act XXXIII of 1951. West Ben. Act XVII of 1965.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Provision was made under the Bengal Legislative Assembly (Members' Emoluments) (Amendment) Act, 1959, so that a Member of the State Legislature could get facility of travelling free by railways to any part of India up to a limit of 3,000 miles a year, over and above the travelling allowance that was admissible to a Member under the existing rules for attending a session of the Legislature or committee of the same. The idea was that Members would be able to have a first hand idea of the various development schemes relating to roads, buildings, industries, agriculture, etc. It has been found, however, in practice, that the limit of 3,000 miles is too low for the purpose for which the facility was provided. A journey to a southern State and back will almost exceed the limit of 3,000 miles. The Bill, therefore, proposes to allow the Members the facility of travelling free by railway within the State without any limit of mileage while retaining the present limit of 3,000 miles for railway journeys outside the State.

It is also necessary to provide a Member with facilities for contacting the Legislature Secretariat and other Members at short notice. It is accordingly proposed to make certain provisions under the Bengal Legislative Assembly (Members' Emoluments) Act, 1937 (as subsequently amended), under which a Member residing within Calcutta or Howrah and possessing a telephone in his own name will be reimbursed by an amount equivalent to the charges payable in respect of calls, not being trunk calls, made by such a Member up to a maximum of one hundred calls per month.

A. MAITI,
Member-in-charge.

CALCUTTA,
The 10th December, 1965.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM.

Under clause 2 of the Bill, provision under section 4 of the Bengal Legislative Assembly (Members' Emoluments) Act, 1937 (as subsequently amended) is proposed to be modified with a view to affording greater travel facilities to the Members of the Legislature in this State to enable them to have a first hand idea of the various development schemes relating to roads, buildings, industries, agriculture, etc.

2. The total probable additional cost, as per calculations on assumption, that may have to be incurred per annum by the State Government in this connection may be of the order of Rs. 77,000 and that for the grant of communication facilities (over the telephone) may be of the order of Rs. 13,680 for the present with an additional probable cost of Rs. 180 per year for each of the other Members if and when the conditions are fulfilled by them.

A. MAITI,
Member-in-charge.

MINUTES OF DISSENT

As one of the members of the Select Committee elected to consider the provisions of the above Bill I am thankful to the Hon'ble Finance Minister sponsoring the Bill for giving us the facilities of a free discussion in a friendly atmosphere. The last sitting of the Select Committee was held on the 14th of December, 1965 and I was told dissent report, if any, to be submitted within three days from that date. Within this short time therefore I am obliged to record my views on the Bill,.

I feel that never perhaps in the history of any Municipal Corporation it was faced with a Bill with such drastic provisions curtailing its power and depriving it of its main functions for providing of which it is created viz., water supply, sewerage, drainage and clearance of night soil and garbages. The Bill therefore is a unique one and first of its kind in India. In the name of development, municipal establishments of water supply, drainage and the like are proposed to be taken away including all pumping stations and existing services along with municipal assets connected therewith which took nearly a century to build up after spending collosal sums provided mainly by the ratepayers. There is no provision in the Bill to show its necessity and justification. Nor was it ever intended any time when the question of creation of the Authority was first raised and discussed that for development purposes such control of existing services should be taken away from municipal bodies and municipal administration would go in the hands of the "Authority". It is therefore felt that such usurpation of powers is perhaps needed to control the affiairs of municipal bodies through the executives of the Government. There is no provision in the Bill providing that what are being taken away now from the Municipality would after development be returned to them any time to be administered by the elected representatives.

The Bill follows fundamentally the trend of recent legislations, viz., extending Government control by curtailment of powers and privileges of elected bodies. The Bill, therefore, is undemocratic and opposed to the policy of Government by decentralisation of powers to be exercised by many—the Bill seeks to centralise powers to be exercised by a few to be selected by the Government. Democracy cannot thrive and function if limited men only are taken to be dependable and monopoly of intelligence and efficiency is claimed. The Bill is based on distrust and suspicion so far as elected representatives in Municipal bodies are concerned.

The Bill has been drafted to implement a Non-official Resolution passed in Assembly on the 18th November, 1960, recommending the creation of an "Authority" as early as possible to tackle the problems of water supply, drainage, sewerage, etc. It contemplated the formation of an Autonomous or Semi-Autonomous Body free from the control of Government or the Municipality. The present Authority as provided in the Bill is a Government controlled body as nominated members of the Board, and the Chairman appointed by the Government possessing power of a casting vote, would be in a majority. The power of appointment of a General Manager ultimately rests with Government who would be the Chief Executive Officer. No substantial powers have been given to the General Council and inspite of adding a few of their number the General Council's main function would only be to approve and to ratify reports and statements for a year. Formal work is entrusted to the Council which would meet every three months.

Powers have been given to the Authority to levy taxes, fees, charges, etc., on the people who are already overburdened without specifying the approximate amount of total taxes and charges payable. The amount of reduction of the taxes for water, drainage, etc., have not been specified. In addition the people would be charged for water based on consumption, a surcharge on water charge for sewering, and a graduated tax on the annual valuation of lands and buildings. The taxes, fees and charges to be imposed would be such as to enable the Authorities to cover operating expenses, interest payment, repayment of long term indebtedness, etc. The taxes to be paid by the ratepayers would be rather high so far as middle-class people are concerned without getting in return an immediate benefit. Drastic provision has been made to cut off water connection on certain conditions. The power to cut off connections would be delegated to the subordinate officers and it is apprehended that power would not be properly exercised and the ratepayers would greatly suffer and would be harassed to restore connections. Meter to be fixed in each premises to be purchased at heavy costs and the required establishment for the same would be expensive.

I would like to mention particularly about the Calcutta Corporation that the city of Calcutta grew from marshy swamps infested with deadly animals at one time to its present stature with multi-storeyed skyscrapers as we see today but this development did not take place in a day or within a few years but it took nearly a century. Calcutta's water supply commenced by excavating tanks and thereafter by setting up of a small pumping set at Chandpalghat to draw water from the Ganges carried through open aqueducts for delivery to the residents of the locality. Calcutta's water reservoir at Talla consisting of a steel tank 321 sq. ft. and 110 feet. high is a feat of engineering marvel and skill carrying water for storage carried through pipe lines laid from Palta to Talla, a distance of nearly 14 miles. The Corporation brought foreign experts of eminence to carry out schemes for extension of water supply projects to meet the demand of a growing population which increased in great numbers. Only recently the Corporation succeded in laying 72 inches water pipe (underground) from Palta to Talla. Calcutta met the challenges of two great World Wars, a famine and influx of refugees in lakhs due to partition of Bengal resulting in the increase of slums. The Corporation completed its Master Plans for water supply and drainage to meet the additional requirements and still today it can complete them if funds are available and if funds are provided from other sources as recommended by the Committees appointed by the Centre and the State. The recommendations of the Committees of experts appointed by the State Government one after the other have not been carried out.

The Corporation was superseded and for years it remained under the management of the Government. Calcutta Corporation had Commissioners who resigned as a protest against the Mackenzie Act in 1899 for giving executive heads more powers headed by Shri Surendra Nath Banerjee who afterwards as Sir Surendranath as a Minister of Local Self-Government avenged the wrong by introducing Municipal Act of 1923 which was democratic free from official interference. The Corporation has Desbandhu C. R. Das as its first Mayor followed by successive Mayors many of whom were eminent public leaders of All India fame. Civic autonomy was curbed by successive legislation that followed by Ordinances passed into Acts culminating in the present Bill proposing to take away for good important branches of civic administration with a view to control its activities and converting the Corporation into a branch office of Writers' Building. I may be excused for this digression made more in sorrow than in anger to emphasise the trend of events leading to destruction of all democratic principles on which local self-governing Institutions are based. The Bill is a negation of the principles accepted by the Governments starting from the rule of Lord Ripon in British days and now embodied in the Constitution of India to enlarge the powers of Local Self-governing Institutions. I am opposed to the Bill passed into law, and knowing as I do, that nothing would be done, as desired, and by a majority of votes the Government would disregard any opinion against the Bill and would not heed the voice of reason. Had they cared to improve water supply and drainage system for providing minimum civic amenities to the people of the State they could have done so without any recommendation of foreign establishments and organisations and relying completely on the abilities of Indian engineers and on the determined support and co-operation of the people of this great country. It is still unknown what funds would be provided by the Centre or the State and the foreign organisations and what additional burden would be put on the shoulders of the people to bear and what prevented the Government to take steps earlier. I oppose the Bill as it is presented before us today and I cherish the hope that the legislators who are the representatives of the people in their collective wisdom would throw out the same as not acceptable to the people they represent and in the name of the teeming millions living within the State they would do so in their interest and would stand up to defend the rights and privileges of Local Self-governing Institutions for which the leaders fought, many of whom still adorn the Treasury Benches.

In conclusion I may be permitted to submit a note of warning to the authorities concerned on whom rest the destinies of the country and the people to seriously consider how far they should go to depend on foreign aid and foreign technicians and on what terms they would accept their aid consistently with the dignity and self-respect of a free nation and for how long they would adhere steadfastly to this mendicant policy of begging and dependence even for water and sewarage. If for any reason we have to repent hereafter, just as we repented in the matter of food, let it not be said that repentance came too late and we have therefore to pay dearly for the same. It is time to think how far we should go to unfold to outsiders the history of every grass blade that grows in our country.

BIJOY KUMAR BANERJEE.

II

Improvement prospects and Taxation

The constitution of the Metropolitan Authority as envisaged in the Bill that has come out from the Select Committee will lead not so much to the improvement of water-supply and other amenities as to further increases in the tax burden on the citizens. From the C.M.P.O. Report (2a) it appears that the population of the Calcutta Metropolitan District (C.M.D.) shall have to wait till the year 2001 A.D. for even 50 gallons of water per head per day. But for this they will have to bear heavy taxes from now on. Apart from corporation and municipal taxes, which may be reduced to some extent, four categories of taxes and charges for water, sewarage, garbage removal and administration shall have to be paid by the taxpayers. While paying taxes at 5 to 15 per cent. on the annual valuation of lands and buildings and another 5 per cent. for removal of garbage, the ratepayers shall also have to pay a water-charge based on consumption and surcharge on water-charge for sewarage which they do not have to pay at present. Besides, in the absence of any ceiling on water-charge and surcharge for sewarage the citizens will be left at the mercy of the Authority.

Bureaucratic control

Out of the 6-men Board of Directors, which is the most powerful body in the Authority, 3 Directors will be appointed by the Government. Moreover, the Chairman of the Board of Directors will be appointed by the Government from among the Directors appointed by them. This Chairman will also be the Chairman of the General Council. The elected representatives on the Board as well as on the General Council will have to act under the Chairmanship of this officer. This will seriously undermine the position and prestige of the elected representatives of the people on the Board and the General Council.

The General Manager, i.e., the Chief Executive Officer of the Authority, will be appointed by the Board of Directors. The General Council will have no voice in this appointment. This General Manager will have wide powers including the power of appointing officers with salary up to Rs. 1,000 per month.

Even after the changes made by the Select Committee with regard to the General Council it will have 16 members appointed or nominated by the Government in a Council of 50 members. This is a heavy weightage in favour of bureaucracy to the detriment of popular representation.

Thirty-five corporations and municipalities within the area will have only 20 representatives on the Council. Out of this 32 municipalities will have only 12 representatives from amongst them by rotation which means 20 municipalities will always go unrepresented. In the case of Calcutta and Howrah Corporations which are entitled to send 6 and 2 representatives respectively, proportional representation has been denied, thus creating the possibility of excluding the opposition from representation altogether.

While provision has been made for a representative of the capitalists from the Chambers of Commerce, the workers' Trade Unions have not been given any representation.

Shape of a Democratic Authority

We are of the opinion that a Corporation of the whole area with representatives elected on adult franchise and employing salaried technical personnel and experts should constitute the Authority. As far as we know, the civic administration of Greater Bombay is being carried on by the Bombay Corporation by adding Greater Bombay to itself. And the Corporation is not only providing civic amenities but also electricity and transport.

Alternatively, the General Council should have at least one representative from each municipality with higher representation from bigger ones. The entire power and function of the Authority should vest on the General Council. This Council should appoint the Board to function as its Standing Committee to which the Council may delegate any power it likes.

In either case, resources required over and above the collection of reasonable taxes and rates should be provided as grants and loans by the State and Central Governments in the interest of promoting health and sanitation of this vast industrial city whose population contribute a considerable part of the income of the State and Union Governments.

Adequate funds being made available to such an Authority, Indian personnel will be able to plan and execute schemes for water-supply, sewarage, drainage, etc., in the Metropolitan District. Invitation of foreign interference in such matters is uncalled for and derogatory to the country's interest.

Corporation and Municipalities

The Bill appears to be a first step towards complete abolition of the corporations and municipalities. After taking away the water-supply, sanitation, sewerage and more than half of their rates from the hands of the corporations and municipalities, they will have inadequate funds at their disposal to continue and extend their other functions.

Besides, the Bill leaves plenty of scope for disputes between the Municipal Authorities and the Metropolitan Authority which will only affect the interests of the citizens.

This has also provided excuses for the State Government to interfere and make the situation further complicated.

Employees of Municipalities and Corporations

Though it is stated in section 26 that service conditions of those employees of the municipalities and corporations who may be transferred to the Authority will not be inferior to their existing conditions, considerable loophole has been left about their designations and duties and about the eligibility of their transfer. The provisions are likely to lead to endless disputes in these matters, causing considerable suffering to the employees concerned.

Foreign interference and curtailment of Democracy

According to the C.M.P.O. Report No. 2 the Bill to create the Authority was first approved by the W.H.O. and then by the Cabinet of West Bengal (page 11). It is further stated that the World Bank in 1964 indicated an interest in making loans for the purpose of this Bill on condition that legislation for establishing the Metropolitan Authority, obviously on the lines of the Bill inspired by the W.H.O., was enacted. The World Bank is also reported to have indicated "a probable willingness" to make grants to provide engineering consultants, management consultants and also financial consuitants. What is most ominous in the C.M.P.O. Report is that the foreign-dominated World Bank is desirous not only of interfering in the establishment of the Authority but also in continuing its interference even after the establishment of the Authority as management and financial consultants, thus seeking a grip of foreigners over the Metropolitan area's very life-line.

It appears that for the sake of an insignificant grant to establish the Authority a Bill inspired by foreigners is being rushed through the Select Committee and the Assembly. Even the opinion of the Calcutta Corporation and the West Bengal Municipal Association could not be made available to the Select Committee.

What is more surprising is that there is not even any assurance whether any loan will be granted by the World Bank. But, through foreign inspiration and on the plea of a single Metropolitan Authority the Bill seeks to take away the democratic rights of the people enshrined in the self-governing local bodies which have evolved, no matter what their weaknesses may be, through the genius and struggles of the citizens of the Metropolitan area. Dangling the carrot of petty help the foreign inspirers seek to encourage the Government to bureaucratise our civic services and to go against the democratic traditions of our self-governing civic bodies.

A single Authority may be useful. But it must be democratically controlled and functioned. The C.M.P.O. so far has done little beyond integrating or finalising plans already suggested or formulated by corporations and municipalities. Its Master Plan is not yet known. There is no reason to expect that this body will do much better than the self-governing institutions. The main problem is of finance. The existing institutions could do much better if funds were provided to them. The Bill pre-supposes availability of some fund from the Central Government and probably from the World Bank, but that hope is used to take away the powers of the self-governing institutions and make the body more or less a creature of the Government, i.e., of the executive bureaucracy.

Experience of both Governmental and civic bodies has shown that hardly any public work is done unless the people are able to bring pressure on the body of persons who will plan and execute the work. Fully democratic institutions where the electorate can exert pressure on the bodies during and after elections are, therefore, indispensable in this country to get even minimum work done. The idea behind this Bill is to deprive the electorate of its power and pressure, so that the bureaucracy can rule the roast even without effecting any appreciable improvement. Hence the main idea behind the Bill is an idea alien to the experience and traditions of our people.

The Select Committee has certainly made some improvement on the riginal draft of the Bill by slightly increasing the representative character id powers of the General Council. Nevertheless, it is still a reactionary ill circumscribing even the existing democratic features of our civic odies, denying the existing rights of the people, imposing heavy tax urdens on them with very little assurance of improvement of civic amenies. Further, it opens the road for foreign interference in our civic atters. We are, therefore, opposed in principle to the Bill as reported by te Select Committee.

III

It is no denying a fact that the water supply, sewage disposal and environmental sanitation of Calcutta Metropolitan District covering an area of approximately 460 square miles, and having a population of 6.58 millions in 1961, need immediate augmentation, improvement and development in order to prevent the recurrence of epedemic diseases and to maintain and improve the health and hygiene of this huge mass of population. This augmentation of water supply, development of sewage disposal and improvement of environmental sanitation, do not necessitate transfer of the statutory powers of Corporations and Municipalities of this area, who may have failed or could not cater to the needs, due to paucity of funds, from the hands of these democratically elected bodies to an authority which will be mainly nominated by the Government, as has been envisaged in this Bill. These developmental works could have been done by the Authority without snatching away the administrative powers from these local self-government institutions, as are being done by the Calcutta and Howrah Improvement Trusts at present. Because, this method of depriving of powers of the Corporations and Municipalities will not only hit the democratic principles of the country, when the representatives of these institutions are recently being elected on adult franchise, but also hit the common mass of people inhabiting in this area by way of increase in taxes and other harassments. If the State Government thinks that the elected representatives failed to discharge their duties, not due to paucity of funds but owing to other reasons, the administrative machinery of the Government with all its officers and men did not do better in any sphere of the State Machinery. Day to day experience in dealing with these machineries reveals inefficiency, corruption and harassment to the extreme suffering of common man, who has to come in contact with them. Hence transference of powers for administering the day to day water supply, sewage system and environmental sanitation from the hands of these local self-governing units to this Authority will not do any better service.

While on the provisions of the Bill, it may be said that though there have been improvements in so far as the formation of Board of Directors who will run the administration in the name of the Authority, by the inclusion of three elected Directors from the General Council, yet the new provision of casting vote of the Chairman of the Board, who will be nominated by the State Government, gives the entire power in the hands of the nominated Directors, who will be mainly service people having bureaucratic mentality and are far from the touch of the common people.

Though the powers and functions of the General Council have been increased with regard to the annual budget and the fixation of taxes, fees and charges by the Authority, and though the composition of the General Council has been expanded by inclusion of a few elected representatives of the people, yet this General Council is not the supreme body of the Authority and the Board is not responsible to it in various matters, other than those stated above.

The provision for taxation on water supply and garbage removal, etc., does not commensurate with financial limits of the common mass of people residing within the Calcutta Metropolitan District.

These are the salient features and other minor details, which we could not agree with, and hence this minute of dissent.

IV

I am afraid I could not persuade myself to agree to the Calcutta Metropolitan Water and Sanitation Authority Bill as reported by the Select Committee for reasons more than one.

"Thus from the midday halt of Charnock grew up a city
just as fungus spreads
chaotic from its bed
so it spread chance-directed, chance-erected laid and built on the silt
Palace, byre, hovel, poverty and pride side by side."

This characteristic portraiture of the city of Calcutta by Kipling remains valid even to-day and the devastating disparity in the living standards of the people living in and around this great metropolis and the shocking contrast revealed by the unhindered, undisturbed and peaceful co-existence of picture palaces with hovels and slums—the habitats of millions of working people living in this city point with unerring finger to the yawning gaps in the plan and the ostrich-like attitude of the ruling party to ignore the pressing realities of the situation and bury its head in the sand of complacency. I wish to make it clear that this dissent should not be misunderstood into an argument against metropolitan planning and urbanisation. Nor should it be construed as an advocacy for maintenance of the status quo. The idea of an integrated master plan for drainage, sewerage and supply of water is good—and it is no doubt a welcome move. But setting up of a new centralised authority to cope and deal with these urgent problems outside the purview of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1951 and the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, presupposes the announcement of a final, official and legislative verdict on the inefficiency and futility of the existing local self-governing units founded and incorporated by statutes to deal with these problems, to treat and diagnose the malaise and hammer out effective solutions. The inadequacies of the existing Acts should not be confused with the capabilities or otherwise of these local self-governing bodies. The State Government is just trying to trifle and tinker with the problems and not endeavouring to tackle the same and face them fairly and squarely. Failure of the Corporation of Calcutta and other Municipal Corporations which are going to be affected by the Bill in the matter of adequate supply of water, drainage and efficient sewerage should not be used as an argument against the basic democratic idea of local self-government and the plea of hypothetical efficiency and scientific planning should not be permitted to be employed to loot local self-governing bodies of their autonomy. There is no valid warrant to assume that the new body contemplated by this Bill would discharge the duties proposed to be entrusted to it efficiently, wisely, fairly and expeditiously and that this new body, however eminently constituted, would be a paragon of virtues.

Proliferation of such statutory bodies would not only mean imposition of additional financial burden on the people—particularly—middle class and lower middle class families owning house properties—who have already come to the end of their financial tether—but provide new cockpits of battle between such bodies and lead to bureaucratic preponderance over civic affairs and bureaucratic procrastination.

Calcutta city has already become too big and fresh inclusion of 35 Municipalities would simply result in creation of unwieldy conurbations. City of Calcutta looks like a city State. Its further expansion under the guise of scientific metropolitan planning as envisaged by the Bill would be wholly unwarranted and even dangerous from the point of view of logistics. I should rather think that several groups of municipalities could be persuaded to combine for an integrated scheme for supply of drinking water, effective drainage and sewerage according to their size, population, administrative viability. State Government instead of helping emergence of unwieldy conurbations should make a determined endeavour for urban development on the lines of decentralised planning. The present Bill is a step towards further centralisation of power. Slavish imitation or mimicry of western ideas about metropolitan planning and modes of [illegible]nisation and attempts to translate them into Indian scene without due [illegible] and regard for special conditions prevailing in this country would [illegible]g in new problems of graver dimensions and import. The costly lessons [illegible]ed by the western countries should not be lost sight of. I strongly [illegible] that Metropolitan Planning Bill cannot go hand in hand with our [illegible]ssed ideas of Panchayat Raj and setting up Panchayati Institutions [illegible]he country. If we really want local initiative to grow we must trust [illegible]re local self-governing units which are our important training ground [illegible] of democracy. If we sweepingly tarnish the Corporation and Municipal bodies with the tar of official opprobrium and with the [illegible] brush—and think that [illegible] problems of water supply, drainage, sewerage, etc.—there is no reason why we should stop these and not proceed further, extend the same logic with equal charity to the sphere of Panchayat Raj Institutions. Are we really serious about our democratic professions? Is democracy then really a sophisticated form of Government which cannot be carried out by elected representatives of the people at the lower level? Much more power be then committed to administrative brasshats—steeped in western ideas of planning, growth, development and progress—for democratic administration? The professions of the ruling party clearly run at a tangent to its practices. This, to say the least, is most unfortunate. The Municipal Acts should be streamlined and its inadequacies removed forthwith. Such inadequacies in Acts concerned should not be used as an excuse for curtailing the powers and statutory obligations of our self-governing institutions. I have an apprehension that fresh financial burdens might in the name of development and planning be imposed on middle class and lower middle class families owning house properties in the city and this may ultimately squeeze such families out of the city.

To a democrat—the old question crops up again and again: 'Is good Government a substitute for self government?' Those who value democracy both as a bridge and as a goal—both as 'means' and as an 'end' in itself, as a value to be experienced and prized in every walk of life—any assault on democratic self-governing institutions and concomitant erosion of democratic rights and values—should be stubbornly resisted by them. Calcutta—the great seat of culture and learning—the city from where the gospels of freedom and liberty were preached and propounded for the first time in India's history should not be reduced into a sky-scraper city ever with vertical growth at the expense of horizontal, all-round growth and development.

NOTIFICATION

No. 4171L.—24th December, 1965.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 66 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in the West Bengal Legislative Assembly, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE (WEST BENGAL AMENDMENT) BILL, 1965.

to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, in its application to West Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, in its application to West Bengal, for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter appearing; Act 5 of 1898.

It is hereby enacted in the Sixteenth Year of the Republic of India, by the Legislature of West Bengal, as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (West Bengal Amendment) Act, 1965.

Application of the Act. 2. The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (hereinafter referred to as the said Code), shall, in its application to West Bengal, be amended for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter provided.

Amendment of section 10 of Act 5 of 1898. 3. In section 10 of the said Code, after sub-section (2), the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(2A) A District Magistrate may, by a general or a special order, authorise an Additional District Magistrate to do any act or take any action required by a Court or other competent authority to be done or taken by the District Magistrate, if such act or action is within the powers conferred on the Additional District Magistrate under sub-section (2), except where the District Magistrate is directed, expressly or by necessary implication, to do such act or take such action himself.".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

An Additional District Magistrate can exercise all the legal powers of the District Magistrate. But as a result of a Judgment of the Calcutta High Court it is now inadvisable for an Additional District Magistrate to take certain types of actions directed by a Court to be taken by the District Magistrate.

The situation created by the Judgment requires to be met immediately by a suitable amendment of the law, because grave administrative difficulties will arise if District Magistrates are themselves to do all acts and take all steps that may be directed by a court or other superior authority to be done or taken by the District Magistrate. Equal competence of the Additional District Magistrate to do such acts or take such steps should be placed on a clear legal basis.

Hence this amendment.
